Penn Community Bank Hires Mortgage Loan Officers

The area's leading independent mutual bank adds Nancy Cimino and Connie Chau to the mortgage lending team

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (October 2018) Penn Community Bank, the area's leading independent, mutual financial organization, has hired two new mortgage loan officers, Nancy Cimino and Connie Chau. They will serve customers in the areas of Central and Upper Bucks County.

With more than 20 years of sales experience, Cimino has substantial real estate knowledge. She previously was employed at a Bucks County commercial appraisal firm, giving her wide experience with property records, tax maps, deeds, and zoning information. She lives in Riegelsville.

Chau brings 15 years of experience in banking and sales to her position at Penn Community Bank. Previously, she served as a vice president at a bank in Montgomery County where she was the top lending producer in her market. A resident of Norristown, Chau has spent her career in the Bucks and Montgomery county region.

"We are excited to welcome Nancy and Connie to our residential lending team," said Stephen Murphy, Senior Vice President, Residential & Consumer Lending at Penn Community Bank. "Our mortgage experts build close relationships with borrowers, guiding them through the process and serving as a trusted resource from start to finish and even after the loan has closed."

Penn Community Bank's mortgage loan officers work hard to serve the residential lending needs of clients throughout Bucks and Montgomery counties. They understand that buying property is an important decision for every borrower, and they take great pride in matching each borrower with the most appropriate loan type for their individual needs. To learn more, visit
