Penn Community Bank Officers Appointed to Bucks County Opportunity Council Board

PERKASIE, Pa. (December 2018) Penn Community Bank, the area's leading independent, mutual financial organization, is proud to announce the appointment of Senior Vice President, Retail Banking Director Jacob A. Iampietro, and Branch Manager Alayna M. Lopez to the board of directors of the Bucks County Opportunity Council.

Iampietro is responsible for the overall management and performance of the bank's 25 retail branches. He focuses on mentoring the regional Market Leaders and implementing the integrated business development initiatives of Penn Community Bank throughout its retail network. He lives in Jamison.

A resident of Quakertown, Lopez has been with Penn Community Bank since 2016. As a branch manager, she is responsible for cultivating relationships with business and personal customers in the Warminster market. She has served on the United Way of Bucks County's Emerging Leaders Committee.

The Bucks County Opportunity Council works to reduce poverty and partner with the community to promote economic self-sufficiency. Founded in 1965, it is a nonprofit Community Action Agency serving low-income families in Bucks County through a variety of programs.

Comprised of former clients and representatives from the private sector and local government, the board of directors of Bucks County Opportunity Council helps ensure that the agency remains administratively and fiscally sound as it focuses on its mission to assess and respond to the causes and conditions of poverty within the community. The organization's vision is to elevate the awareness of poverty while creating and leading partnerships that ultimately offer low-income Bucks County residents a bridge out of poverty, for good.

About Penn Community: Penn Community Bank holds more than $2 billion in assets, employs more than 300 people, and offers banking, lending, insurance and investments at 25 bank branches and two administrative centers throughout Bucks and Montgomery

Counties, Pennsylvania. As an independent, mutual financial institution, Penn Community Bank is not publicly traded and operates with its long-term mission in mind: to help businesses grow and prosper, to provide financial resources to individuals and families throughout their lifetimes, to strengthen the local economy, and to partner with local organizations to act as a catalyst for positive growth in every market it serves.
