

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: Caitlan McCafferty
caitlan@furiarubel.com / 215-340-0480

Penn Community Bank Announces 2018 ‘Workplace Connections’ Donation Total, 2019 Program Partners

Bank-at-work program enables new account holders to donate to one of five area nonprofits

PERKASIE, Pa. (February 2019) – Penn Community Bank, the area’s leading independent, mutual financial organization, is proud to announce the 2018 donation total for its Workplace Connections program and the new nonprofit partners that will receive contributions from the program for 2019.

Workplace Connections is a bank-at-work program that brings benefits, including free financial literacy workshops, to area employers and their employees. For every new checking account opened through Workplace Connections, Penn Community Bank will donate $10 on behalf of the account owner to one of five rotating local organizations.

In 2018, Workplace Connections generated $8,750 in donations for Aldie Counseling Center; the James A. Michener Art Museum; Network of Victim Assistance (NOVA); Penn Foundation; and the United Way of Bucks County.

For 2019, Penn Community Bank is partnering with Youth Orchestra of Bucks County; Big Brothers Big Sisters of Bucks County; Ann Silverman Community Health Clinic; Rolling Harvest Food Rescue; and Family Service Association Homeless Shelter.

“We are sincerely grateful to partner with Penn Community Bank and their customers as part of the 2019 Workplace Connections ‘Giving Back Matters’ program,” said Sally Fabian-Oresic, Executive Director of the Ann Silverman Community Health Clinic. “The clinic’s mission is to provide free medical care, dental care and social services for low-income, uninsured members of our community. The work of the clinic is made possible through the dedicated efforts of our volunteer doctors, nurses, nurse practitioners, dentists, dental assistants and hygienists as well as the funds donated by community organizations like Penn Community Bank, which has developed this unique initiative to directly support our efforts to serve those who need it the most.”

Since the program's launch in 2017, Penn Community Bank has donated nearly $14,000 to area nonprofits through Workplace Connections.

To learn more and to find out how Workplace Connections can benefit your business, contact WorkplaceConnections@penncommunitybank.com.

PHOTO CAPTION: Todd R. Hurley, Chief Relationship Officer, Penn Community Bank (center) presents a $3,310.00 check to Penny Ettinger, Network of Victim Assistance (NOVA) Executive Director (left) and Mandy Mundy, NOVA Senior Director - Programs and Services (right).

About Workplace Connections: Workplace Connections is a bank-at-work program that brings benefits, including free financial literacy workshops, to area employers and their employees. As part of the program, Penn Community Bank's financial experts visit local employers to provide on-site financial education. Penn Community Bank provides educational materials and an orientation for new employees. Employers that participate in Workplace Connections also are eligible to be featured in Penn Community Bank's Small Business Spotlight, which highlights a participating local business at one of the bank's branch locations. Anyone who opens a new free checking account through the Workplace Connections program will get a cash bonus deposited into the account. Paychecks can be deposited directly and enrollment can be completed on-site at work, eliminating the need to make a special trip to the bank.

About Penn Community: Penn Community Bank, a Member FDIC financial organization, holds more than $2 billion in assets, employs more than 300 people, and offers banking, lending, insurance and investments at 25 bank branches and two administrative centers throughout Bucks and Montgomery Counties, Pennsylvania. As an independent, mutual financial institution, Penn Community Bank is not publicly traded and operates with its long-term mission in mind: to help businesses grow and prosper, to provide financial resources to individuals and families throughout their lifetimes, to strengthen the local economy, and to partner with local organizations to act as a catalyst for positive growth in every market it serves.

###